Overland from Portland to Sacramento

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

As many of your readers may not be fully posted regarding the route daily traveled by the Overland Stage Company running between Portland and Sacramento, I propose to give you a few "jottings by the way," having just completed that trip inside of the schedule time—six days. Your correspondent left Portland on Monday morning, the 28th ult , in one of the company's coaches under charge of the well known and popular driver "Cal," who landed us safely at Salem—51 miles on our journey—just as the sun was setting. Supper over, we were greeted with the cry of "all aboard" and seated ourselves in one of the company's new coaches for Eugene City. During the night we passed through Albany and Corvallis, changed horses at Gird's, Looney's and Millroy's and finally reached Eugene City in time for breakfast, having accomplished 125 miles of our journey. Here we were taken charge of by Payne, the popular driver, who was I think the first man who drove a stage coach into Portland, and who beguiled the tedium of the trip by relating reminiscences of his stage driving career. Just beyond Eugene the road is horrible, being the roughest kind of rough corduroy, and as the running gear of our wagon was not made for that style of thoroughfare, as a natural consequence, we had a break down. This delayed us about an hour, and passing Robinet's, Hawley's, Estes' and Ambroses' we finally arrived at Oakland, 182 miles on our winding way. "All aboard" again and we rolled on through the darkness and night, passing through Winchester, and finally reached Roseburg at one o'clock in the morning being 200 miles from our starting point. Leaving Roseburg an hour later, we found ourselves surrounded by a dense fog, so that it was almost impossible for the horses or driver to keep the road, and as a consequence we had to pull up until the driver had returned from a prospecting tour on foot to ascertain where we were—as, so far as human eye could discern, we might be, possibly, within a foot of a precipice, or in the middle of a prairie—as everything was obliterated, nothing but fog of the thickest kind. Of course the feeling that you are in danger of perhaps immediate death by some unforeseen accident naturally tends to banish sleep, and although the passengers had no rest for the previous fifty eight hours, yet a more wide awake anxious looking set of individuals I never beheld. Finally the driver found the road and we rolled on again for fifteen minutes when a few emphatic remarks from the driver assured us that something was wrong, and we found upon enquiry that he had gone over the same piece of road before, and we had been making a circle for the past half hour. Day dawned at last, and the fog began to clear off so that we reached Canyonville in time for a ten o'clock breakfast. We found the people of Canyonville in a terrible state of excitement—knots of men standing on every corner talking of such suggestive subjects as "a good limb," "a strong rope," and kindred topics. It seems that on the previous night—about 12 o'clock some miscreant had set fire to a new dwelling house just being erected by Mr. Abrams, a merchant of Canyonville, whose house had been destroyed in the same manner about a month before. That it was the work of an incendiary there seemed no reasonable doubt, so the citizens set to work to ferret out the perpetrator, and in order to be doing something, it was suggested that it might be well to hang a certain Chinaman. Accordingly a rope was procured, a tree selected and a Chinaman captured, and John having been encased in a hempen cravat was told to turn his thoughts to Josh, for were he Confucius himself they would hang him as high as Haman if he didn't confess who burned the house! John pleaded not guilty, "me no burn 'Melican man's house"—and so as the poor fellow was nearly dead with fright it was agreed not to kill him all out—so the rope was unloosened and John let go on his way rejoicing, and the eager crowd was cheated out of a nice dish of "hung Chinese."

Leaving Canyonville and its excited citizens, we rolled on over hills, through ravines, across streams and into mud holes, until finally, at a quarter past midnight we drew up in front of the hotel at Jacksonville, to find the house closed, the fire nearly out, the wood box empty, and the passengers nearly benumbed with cold. However, thanks to the kindness of the driver—and he has many thanks—we were soon made comfortable with a good fire, and having stretched our weary limbs, we again set off at half past three in the morning, having accomplished 295 miles of our journey.

Leaving Jacksonville, we passed through the beautiful Rogue river valley, stopping at the several stations to change horses and finally reached Yreka, 359 miles from Portland, at five o'clock in the evening. This afforded the passengers a few hours sleep—the first they had since leaving Portland, and at midnight we were "all aboard" again for the road. For the first few hours, we did not make much progress, our speed being impeded by having a horse hitched behind the stage to convey to another station; and as he managed to break loose three times in ten minutes, it may be imagined that his legs did not propel much. Our driver having exhausted all his swearing vocabulary, finally exclaimed with a sigh "Oh! for a log chain!" and that useful article not being convenient among the passengers, he tied "the brute," as he called him, to a fence, and we rolled on unencumbered. Breakfast time found Callahan's ranch, and a good fire and a warm meal was most acceptable after our cold morning ride of seven hours. We then commenced the tedious trip of ascending Scott mountain—the ascent occupying about three hours. When near the summit, I had the good fortune to meet that energetic gentleman known as "old man Carr," who built the Macadamized road leading from Portland to the White House, and who has also superintended the construction of the road over Scott mountain—one of the greatest enterprises in the way of road making it has ever been my fortune to witness. Nearly $50,000 was expended in the construction of the road which runs over mountains that seem impassable, and yet so easy is the grade that we passed some sixteen four horse teams laden with wheat and other produce, each of which had from four thousand to forty seven hundred weight in their wagons. As an illustration of the rocky nature of the mountain, a good story is told, of an Irishman who applied to Mr Carr for a job of work, and the "old man" gave him directions to pick out all the rocks in a certain place on the mountain, and pile them on the lower side to act as a wall for the road. Accordingly, Pat went to work and in the afternoon "old man Carr" went out to see how his new hand was getting along, but was astonished to meet him near the foot of the mountain on his way home. He asked Pat why he quit, and holding out his hands to show how hard he had labored, Pat cried out, "It's no use, Misther Carr, you'd better give up yer job of trying to make a road up that mountain. I've been picking up rocks, and rocks and rocks till me heart is broke, and for every big one I'd pick up I'd find two young ones under it!" But Carr "couldn't see it in that light," and the result is that he has now one of the finest roads in California, and is, I am glad to learn, reaping a golden harvest. About noon we reached the New York House, where we had dinner, and rolled on to Trinity Centre, distant 425 miles from "the old house at home." Here we changed mails and horses, and went through the usual routine of stage coach stoppages, and then rolled on for Shasta,—previous to reaching which we had the most interesting ride of the whole trip. If any of your readers want their nerves braced, let them ride on the outside the stage when it crosses to descend Trinity mountain, and they will never complain again. The road that crosses the mountain is eleven miles long, five on the up grade, and six descending. The mountain is about 5000 feet high, and the road runs along the ledge of ravines, precipices, caverns and gulches most fearful to contemplate. The snapping of a "brake," the breaking of a line, or the shying of a horse would be certain death to all on board, as the road is just wide enough to admit of one wagon except in a few turning off places where two can pass. It took us about an hour to ascend Trinity, and just twenty seven minutes to get to the bottom—a distance of six miles. I cannot express the feeling of relief which a person has when they reach level ground after passing this mountain. As for myself I freely confess I felt as grateful to "Jerry," our excellent driver, for his skill in getting us over safely, as if he had saved my life. The feeling is one of awful grandeur—the depth of the precipices below, the frightful depth that you can see down, the knowledge that the least accident might send you to "that bourne from whence no traveller returns," all combine to add to the joy you experience when on reaching the level plain and you find yourself still in the flesh and ready for supper. "All aboard" is the cry and we roll on through the coming darkness until night finds us passing through that rich mining region known as French Gulch, and a more dismal ride I cannot conceive than that is of a dark night. You seem to fly past gulches ravines and ditches of all shapes known to mining operations, underneath, whilst flumes, water wheels, and a variety of wooden water ways are overhead. Finally we reach Shasta, at about midnight, and here we have several additions to our passenger list, and roll on through the night until daylight finds us entering what is known as the Sacramento valley, and we reach Red Bluffs, 507 miles from Portland, in time for breakfast. I had heard so much of the fertility of California and the beauties of the Sacramento valley, that I paid particular attention to notice any facts which would warrant such a conclusion. But truth compels me to say that a more forlorn looking country than that between Red Bluffs and Tehama I never saw on this coast, in any vicinity that had any pretensions to the title of an agricultural section. There are no farms, but few fences, and the whole country has a "worn out," decayed appearance, to one who is accustomed to the green fields and fine fences of Oregon. In the few places that are fenced, the timber generally used is oak, split like rails, about four feet long, and stuck endways in the ground, which gives the place the appearance of an Indian ranchero. Passing along through Tehama, we reach about noon time that town which has been such a terror to many easily scared Portlanders—I allude to Chico. We all know how much excitement has been caused by the Chico route how many persons have said in times gone by that Portland was dead —Chico killed it—and a hundred such expressions just as sane and as near the truth. Chico is a very nice town, contains several very nice brick buildings, and has a clean, fresh appearance that always pleases a traveler, but as we tarried only long enough to take dinner at the Chico House, of course I cannot give you more than a passing glance of its appearance. On rolls the stage over a fine road, that crosses a low range of mountains that become so numerous you begin to wonder if they will ever have an end, when finally, about five o'clock, you reach the summit of a hill, and there at your feet, in a basin, is the celebrated mining town of Oroville, 571 miles from our starting point. Like nearly all the other towns in Northern California, that have sprung into existence and derived their chief support from mining operations, Oroville presents a deserted appearance. Whole acres of mining claims lay there deserted—worked out and "played out," and the town itself, as a natural result, begins to decay. At Oroville your stage operation may be said to end, and the traveler begins to think that it is about time, as, from want of rest—from the thumping and bumping, the jostling and jolting, the pitching and rolling, your experience during the previous five days and nights—you begin to think seriously that like other good things, too much stage riding is not congenial to comfort! As an instance of the effect of the constant jostling upon the human form divine, I must relate an anecdote of a traveler who stopped at Oroville lately, who, in course of conversation, assured an old lady who asked him if he were not very much "jostled" in the stage: "Well, madam," he said, "I don't know what you call 'jostled,' but this I do know—that I had half a dollar in my pocket when I left Portland, and it was shaken into five dimes before I reached Yreka!" And she believed him.

Leaving Oroville by the railroad cars you reach Marysville, 28 miles, in a short time, and find yourself in what I consider the prettiest city on the Northern coast. Its streets are wide, the stores tastefully decorated, walkways clean and roomy, and the general appearance impresses a stranger very favorably, but ask a storekeeper about trade and the universal cry is, "Ah! Marysville is going down, no trade here now to what there used to be," and such remarks as that. In fact, the complaint is general throughout Northern California. From Marysville you take the company's stage, which brings you to the railroad depot, where you take the cars and find yourself at your journey's end, 642 miles from Portland.

There are many features connected with this great enterprise that I would like to notice were it not for the fact that this epistle has already exceeded the limits I intended, but it may not be uninteresting to know that the mails are carried, exchanged and delivered with commendable regularity—the drivers are all careful, competent and civil men, and the conveyances, with a little alteration, are comfortable. It takes nearly 500 horses to stock the road, 300 of which are almost constantly in use, and their appearance do credit to their owners. The company possesses about twenty coaches and sixty Concord wagons, and gives employment to about one hundred men including superintendent, agents, drivers, hostlers, &c , and the cost of supporting such an enterprise will not fall much short of a thousand dollars a day. The necessity therefore for encouraging such an enterprise must be apparent to every citizen who desires to see the beneficial results derived to Oregon from the expenditure of a great proportion of this vast amount for fodder and other incidental expenses within our State. If, therefore, any of your readers desire to enjoy the beauties of an open air life for a week or two by shaking off the dust of the city, let them call on Dr Whitehouse and he will give them a receipt that will increase their health and lengthen their life many years.

Yours very truly,
MAC.

STATE ITEMS

There are 1,770 persons in Linn county who pay poll tax.

Wheat at Eugene City is 65 cents; at Albany 75 cents.

Fish cured at Yaquina Bay are now offered for sale in the towns of the valley.

Dr Wythe of Salem, will commence a course of lectures at that place next Sunday evening, on the "Pilgrim's Progress."

The people of Douglas county are agitating the subject of county division. The Ensign has "opened its columns to a discussion of the question by the people."

The City Council of Salem has passed an ordinance "to prevent and restrain riotous, drunken and disorderly conduct" by a penalty of fifty dollars fine or ten days imprisonment.

The Magnolia Flouring Mills at Albany have undergone thorough repairs this fall. Two patent Turbine water wheels have been ordered from the East for the mills, which are expected to arrive soon.

Land on the Salem Prairie, anywhere within three or four miles of town, is held at from fifty to one hundred and fifty dollars per acre. Some small tracts have been sold recently at one hundred and twenty five dollars.

The suit of Mulkey vs Rhinehart, lately brought at Eugene City for damages for false imprisonment, has been dismissed by Judge Skinner for want of jurisdiction. Mulkey was one of the Confederates who was arrested in 1865.

A little daughter of the Rev C. G. Belknap of Albany, was seriously burned last Wednesday, by running against a shovel full of coals which her father was carrying. The hot embers were thrown in her face and over her neck and shoulders.

The Mountaineer gives account of stock driven over the Barlow road across the Cascades, as follows: 4,086 cattle, 16 495 sheep 709 saddle horses 229 pack animals, 490 loose horses 217 wagons, 69 yoke of cattle, 249 spans horses, 600 calves and 5 000 lambs.

A Linn county paper says "Last week, an unlucky member of the Smith family, near Lebanon, went hunting geese, he found a flock and blazed away with both barrels of a shot gun. The result was he killed five geese and broke his collar bone, by which he gave the surgeon a case. Pretty strong that."

Says the Albany Journal: The tendency of wheat toward the mills and warehouses last week was somewhat checked by the bad weather and the disposition to hold for a further rise. The mills are about full and are supplied for a run of several months. There is estimated to be from eighty to a hundred thousand bushels yet in the county outside, which will reach market by spring.

The Umatilla paper says: We noticed last week the arrival in town of Mr. S. B. Wait, for the purpose of selecting a site for a flouring mill. He was highly pleased with the water power and the facilities offered for its improvement. He stands ready to commence the erection of a mill with all the modern improvements, whenever he sees the farmers of the adjacent districts put in wheat enough to keep the mill running. He will commence building the mill when farmers commence sowing wheat. This is the natural point for the shipment of flour. He could afford to pay twenty five cents more per bushel in Umatilla than in Walla Walla. We trust our farmers will wake up to the importance of the movement. A mill built here would bring grain even from Wild Horse, and some portions of Walla Walla valley thus adding immensely to our retail trade.

Spirit of the State Press.

The Unionist comes out this week much improved in appearance, and bearing unmistakable evidence that the hand of its new editor, Mr. McDonald, has been employed upon it. The skill and ability of the experienced journalist are exhibited in its columns, and there can be no doubt that under the present management the Unionist will be a very acceptable paper to its readers.

In an article designed to show that it is folly for the ... of human freedom to indulge a hope of Democratic restoration, the Unionist says:

> That party has no ... any part or lot in the ... structure of our national glory, no name in the lum... pages of our ... history, save that of the ... coward and conspiring traitor; no right to linger ... the monumental ... of Gettysburg or Antietam, save to lament the ... hosts of tr... Why not at once, with the alacrity of the ... into the friendly gulf of oblivion, and ... the ... and contempt of the civil... world?

The Enterprise continues to ... in favor of a separate Supreme Court for this State, and ... the Constitution ought to be amended so as to provide for it. As there are many who desire the institution of a separate ... tribunal, it might be as well for the Legislature to to take the initiatory steps ... refer as provided in the Constitution, and then if the people should want the amendment they could ratify it. But it appears to us that it is extremely doubtful whether such an amendment could carry for some time yet, as the general demand for the utmost ... in government would doubtless go far toward ... ing it.

The reading of the Enterprise of Saturday gave us a good deal of ... Our friend ... was terribly indignant about a certain ... that transpired recently at the "Fishing Falls." It seems that certain Indians belonging to the Yamhill Agency were sojourning at "Tumwater," and the Circuit Court gave an order for their removal to the Reservation. At the risk of giving a shock to the nerves of timid and sensitive people, we quote a portion of the malediction which the Enterprise pronounces upon the proceeding:

> We shall not case at Judge W...tock, ... to take an ... view of the case, ... what is law in the ... but to the devil, we say, with a law that will ... the well from the sick and ... from her babe. It strikes us that Brother Ireland has, as he says, taken an exceedingly "impassionate view of the case." But we make no comments, our only object being to let the Enterprise speak for itself on the subject.

The Albany Journal in an article headed "Democratic Principles vs. Oregon Interests," ... the following observations:

The Roseburg Ensign, though professedly a Republican paper, still insists that the negro voting experiment at the South is a failure. Yet that paper supported the "experiment" when it was first made. Can it tell why it persists in calling it a "failure?" Is it ... do not vote with the ... and Democrats? There is no other ... for its ... last.

The Herald in an article on the "...," says:

The Columbia Press is evidently ambitious to imitate the La Crosse Democrat. Mr. Dow has commenced to chop up his articles into short paragraphs, and now "goes after" the "Radicals" in this crushing style.

> Give the negro, the Chi... the ... —yes, give them all the ballot.
> Give it to Government mules, they are loyal.
> Give it to Barnum's ... poll ... pigs, trained ... anything that can be taught to put a piece of paper in a ... hole, either with ... or claws.

> Helper helps you out of all ...

It was said some time ago that Brick Pomeroy was coming to the Pacific coast. But why should he come when he has so successful an imitator? The Press doubtless supposes that by the above logic it has effectually disposed of the suffrage question.

The ... of the Chronicle, Democratic Guard and Courier have no "spirit" in them, but in their next numbers,—having by this time heard of the result of the late elections,—they will no doubt exhibit a great deal of Confederate joy and Copperhead malice. By this time next year they will be hunting for their scalps and confessedly wondering how they lost them.

Grant for President.

A short dispatch was published two or three days ago which has hardly escaped the attention of any diligent reader of the news. This dispatch announced that John W Forney had published a card declaring that he is fully authorized to state that General Grant heartily endorses an editorial in the Philadelphia Press (of which Forney is editor) favoring him for President, and declaring that his principles are in full accord with those of the Union Republican party Coming so direct as this announcement does, there cannot be a doubt of its authenticity. It is merely a formal announcement of a fact which every friend of the cause which was so nobly and ably upheld by General Grant during the whole course of the great struggle, already well knew, for Grant, though he has not been demonstrative after the manner of Johnson and other noisy individuals who have a habit of swinging around a circle, has nevertheless spoken on all proper occasions, and every word of his has always gone directly to the mark. Witness his ringing protest against the removal of the nation's gallant son and [illegible] General Sheridan; witness the bold and straightforward course in refusing to permit the sophistry of the Attorney General to annul the reconstruction law, and his instructions to the military commanders to enforce the law in spite of the attempts of Johnson and Stanbery to [illegible] it. "The great cause which the Union party upheld through the war and which it still upholds, has no truer friend in every [illegible] of that word than General Grant. "I shall count the days that must elapse before the meeting of Congress," said Grant some time ago when he had apprehensions lest the obstinacy of the acting President would stop the progress of reconstruction and plunge everything into chaos In all his acts he has [illegible] supported the policy of Congress, and had it not been for his fidelity to the cause, the worst [illegible] might have ensued It is [illegible] that the man to whom the leadership was [illegible] when the nation was struggling for its life, should now be called to its head to settle the difficulties growing out of the contest, and to secure to the people who have sacrificed so much for the country the legitimate fruits of [illegible] General Grant will be [illegible] by an immense majority, there can be no [illegible]. The time is not yet, whatever ingrates may say, when the nation will refuse to honor its [illegible]

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.—Democratic editors [illegible] none of their efforts to prove the inferiority of the negro. That this is a matter which gives them the greatest concern is evidenced by their [illegible] efforts to prove it. The Courier of this [illegible] has a profound ethnological article intended to [illegible] this great truth, so vital to the [illegible] of "the Democracy." It discourses of the [illegible] of men, the Anglo Saxon, the Malay, etc., till it comes to the negro, of whom it [illegible] a future [illegible]. An [illegible] of all the [illegible] of men was [illegible] into a single [illegible] but the editor [illegible] wishing [illegible] when he deals with so important a [illegible] this [illegible] of the [illegible] more attention than all [illegible]. But [illegible] truth [illegible]. The [illegible] so far has not [illegible] with any of the [illegible] is that [illegible] to be classed with the race yet to [illegible] or to be [illegible] a nondescript. Probably he will choose the latter hypothesis, as [illegible] could be [illegible] such [illegible] in the face of [illegible] and [illegible] as he has done [illegible] near as has [illegible] the South to [illegible] has been in former [illegible] afraid of [illegible] they get [illegible] does this [illegible] baby [illegible] their [illegible] and his Dem[illegible] Or of the Dem[illegible] New York City in July, 1863, which [illegible] if alive, [illegible] negro orphan asylums and—to show the [illegible] horror [illegible] aged [illegible]? If there should be [illegible] in the South, [illegible] the blacks got the [illegible]? But [illegible] that are [illegible] as they [illegible]

[illegible] bug. A [illegible] that the [illegible] is [illegible] "gorilla." A man [illegible] (Ind.), [illegible] to be [illegible], when the [illegible] him [illegible] to forget [illegible] and wanted to shake hands! The [illegible] his friend, the [illegible]: "I don't wonder, Charley, that you don't [illegible] me; and, could I ring the [illegible], I should not have spoken. I am your old friend, F. C., of T., and was so over[illegible] that I could not resist the im[illegible]. I beg you not to [illegible] this, and [illegible] at ten o'clock to-night and I will see you." As some other [illegible] approaching, the [illegible] left with the frightful roars and growls of his [illegible], the "gorilla," ringing in his [illegible]. This story is [illegible] to the Louis[illegible]

Simple people have the [illegible] to ask very simple questions. The simple young man of the Herald propounds some questions of this sort and [illegible] of us an answer [illegible]. We are not a [illegible] whose business it is to instruct simple [illegible] in the [illegible] of politics. Our advice in this case is that the inquirer look out for a Mr. Squeers and a Dotheboys Hall, where he can get [illegible] suited to his understanding. Or perhaps, when Beriah returns he can assume the [illegible] of Squeers.

The "organ" notices the arrival of Gov. Whiteaker and says "he looks hale and hearty, and able to fight the common enemy many a hard fought battle yet." This doubtless means that the ex-Governor of [illegible] is still able to swallow his usual amount of liquids, and to drive away [illegible] holy with the dulcet strains [illegible] his own artistic [illegible]—fiddle.

O'M[illegible], whilom of Oregon, has been engaged in [illegible] at Idaho City and got [illegible] and spanked [illegible]. A man named Thos. Foye was the person with whom he had this last "[illegible]." Dennis has been treated in this way so often that it has really become a [illegible] to spank him [illegible]

Simple says: "We are no prophet nor the son of a prophet." No, "our" only claim to distinction is that "we" are the son of a man who was once a United States Senator for half a term.

Semple is too simple to do a short "sum" in simple addition. Simple subtraction, as it usually deals with simpler terms, would no doubt suit Semple's simple nature a good deal better.

MELTED.—General Gillmore's famous "Swamp Angel" gun has gone into the furnace of a New Jersey foundry.

From Russian America.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13 —The U S steamer Ossipee arrived at Victoria from Sitka on the 10th. She brings the following intelligence

NEW ARCHANGEL, ALASKA Oct 18.—The formal transfer and delivery of Russian America to the United States [illegible] took place to-day, October 18th, Capt Peschouroff acting as [illegible] on behalf of the Russian [illegible] and Major General Rousseau on behalf of the United States At 3 o'clock P M., a battalion of the United States troops under command of Major Charles O. Wood of the 9th Infantry, were drawn up in line in front of the Governor's [illegible], where the transfer took place By half past 3 o'clock a large concourse of people had [illegible], including Americans and Russians of all classes, creoles and Indians, who were eager to be witnesses of the ceremonies. Precisely at the last named hour the Russian forts and fleet fired salutes in honor of the lowering of the Russian flag, but the flag would not come down In lowering, it tore its entire width close by the halyards and floated from a cross tree some forty feet from the ground Three Russian [illegible] then attempted to ascend the loch and a half guy ropes supporting the flag staff, but each failed to [illegible] their national emblem A fourth ascended in a boatswain's chair, and seizing the flag threw it in a direction directly beneath him, but the motion of the wind carried it off This singular incident created quite a sensation among the spectators Five minutes after the lowering of the Russian flag, the stars and stripes went gracefully up, floating free and handsome. Geo Lovell [illegible], a son of the General and a member of his staff, had the honor of flying the American flag to the breeze. The United States steamers Ossipee and Resaca at the same time hailed the event by firing salutes As the Russian flag was lowered, Captain Peschouroff stepped forward and addressed General Rousseau as follows

GENERAL As Commissioner of His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Russia, I now transfer and deliver the Territory of Russian America, ceded by His Majesty, to the United States

Gen [illegible] said, in response, as the American flag [illegible] "Captain—As Commissioner on behalf of the United States Government, I receive and accept the same accordingly." The speeches were uttered in low, conversational tones, and were only heard by Gov Maksutoff, Gen Jeff C Davis, commander of the District of Alaska Capt. Knekof, and a few others who formed the troupe Several [illegible] the ceremony, among them the Princess Maksutoff, Mrs Gen Davis and Mrs Maj Wood The Princess wept audibly as the Russian flag went down The transfer was conducted throughout in a purely diplomatic and business like manner Neither banquets or speech making followed The entire negotiations were transacted in a few hours

The Ossipee, with the Russian and American Commissioners on board, steamed into the harbor at 11 o'clock this [illegible] Oct 18th, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon a dozen American flags floated over the newly born American town of Sitka.

SECOND DISPATCH

NEW ARCHANGEL, Oct 20—The U S steamer Ossippee, which left Alaska on the evening of Oct 26th for Portland, Oregon, having concluded the business connected with the [illegible] of the Territory, was nearly wrecked the night of Oct. 27th, forty miles south of Alaska, in one of the most terrific hurricanes that has ever been on the northern coast in seventy years She lost all her boats Out [illegible] sail and rigging was carried away Her [illegible] was destroyed, all her fires but four were put out, and these were only kept alive by burning oil tallow [illegible], lard, candles, and like substances She shipped an immense sea, which did great injury to the powder in her magazine Forty six sailors were wounded while on duty during the storm, but none killed Gen Rousseau and his son George and staff were on board The hurricane lasted 16 hours the entire storm between 36 and 40 hours Lt. Commander Crossman and Boatswain Wm Green saved the ship by their heroic exertions in battening the hatches when the storm raged with the greatest fury The engineers and firemen also behaved nobly and the wounds of the crew show how well they did their duty The Ossippee put back into the harbor of Sitka on the evening of Oct 28th She expects to leave again on the 4th of November for Portland. Gen. Rousseau will go on her

The United States storeship Jamestown and the United States steamer Resaca are in port, all well Yellow fever completely killed out. United States revenue cutter Lincoln has gone to Stickeen river with the United States surveying or exploring party, which is to examine the interior [illegible]

Two chartered vessels, the Milan and Buena Vista, with Gov. [illegible] for the garrison here, have arrived safely

The late hurricane swept over the harbor with terrific force. Fifty [illegible] were at anchor at the time. Three [illegible] were driven ashore. The Sandwich Island bark, Mameluke was badly damaged Several vessels dragged their anchors and bore down on each other more closely, yet no serious damage was done. The steamship John L Stephens was in their midst and one who was on board of her reports the midnight scene as appalling A number of houses were blown down throughout the town but no lives were lost

THIRD DISPATCH

SITKA, Oct 30.—Capt Peschouroff the Russian Commissioner, and Capt Knekof Commissioner of Russian American Fur Company have protested against the [illegible] occupation of the Company's buildings by U S troops or quartermaster's department The matter will be brought before Secretary Seward and the Russian Minister at Washington at an early day.

The San Francisco Russian Fur Company having failed to carry the agreement [illegible] to some misinterpretation of Article [illegible] of the treaty do not become the immediate successors of the old company, as they expected Henry Baker special agent of the former company who came up on the John L Stephens leaves to-day for San Francisco Some time will elapse before coming to a full and thorough understanding

Gen Rousseau and son leaves to-morrow on the steamer Ossipee for Portland Oregon

Seven duels have taken place, on paper since our occupation of the city Fortunately all were settled without bloodshed The parties to these affairs are of high standing

FROM THE NORTH

VICTORIA Nov 12 —The steamer John L Stephens from Sitka, arrived at Nanaimo on the 9th She will remain there until Friday to coal and probably leave Victoria for San Francisco on Saturday next The U S Revenue Cutter Lincoln will sail for San Francisco to morrow

The birthday of the Prince of Wales was duly celebrated yesterday At the races held in honor of the event the American horse Greyhound won the thousand dollar purse

The steamer Fidelitter from Portland arrived yesterday

The cable which connects this point with the main land has been thoroughly repaired and is again in perfect working order

MARYLAND —The Democrats claim a victory in this State One of their candidates for a State office, James S Franklin, was an officer in the rebel army Of course a man with such a record would be elected in Maryland now that that State has been reclaimed by the returned Democratic rebels.

The party composed of Capt Humphrey and others, who went out in the mountains to what is known as the old Black Leads —to get a ton or more of ore to have crushed at the Santiam quartz mill—returned on Friday They cut and otherwise opened a road to within half a mile of the ledge but had to retire quickly before the snow would prevent a safe return Some of the most substantial people of Albany, says the Journal, are interested in this company, and if the first assay is corroborated, next Spring will open with big operations on that ledge

The Eugene Journal says B J Pengra, Esq, of Eugene has gone by the overland route to Washington. His purpose, we understand, is to work for a Government subsidy for the contemplated Oregon Branch of the Central Pacific road, which it is hoped will be built from Humboldt via the Cascade mountains and Eugene City to Portland

A CLERGYMAN (REV J McMURRAY), writing from Halifax, N S, says, "Having suffered several years with throat affection, to which clergymen are specially subject, and having used various remedies, I have pleasure in giving my testimony as to the relief I have had in the discharge of my Sabbath labors from the use of Brown's Bronchial Troches They have been a great comfort. Others to whom I have recommended them have used them with advantage" For Coughs and Colds the Troches are equally efficacious

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I T —Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000 Paid up capital, $100,000 B M DuRell, President. C W Moore, Cashier Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon

THE WIRES BEING DOWN, we are left utterly in doubt whether the election in New York, Pennsylvania, and other States have gone Republican or Democratic. It makes no difference, politically, how these States have gone as long as our State is yet blessed with a Clothing House that the public can rely on, and always be suited with the best goods at the lowest prices, be it a fine Dress Suit, or a common Business Suit, a fine Silk Dress or a paper of Pins, which you wish to purchase, you will be treated equally as well, at KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size The new cabinet cards, &c., &c [illegible] all pictures enlarged (retouched) in India ink, printed in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J Rumsey Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room

BUSINESS UP THE COLUMBIA —The following is from the Columbia Press of the 8th "Although the season is too far advanced for a very extensive trade, business continues more active than we anticipated and there is not near as [illegible] abatement as was to be expected Merchants are busy supplying the local trade as well as filling out orders of merchants from the upper country who desirous of replenishing their stocks before winter, have not time enough to send to Portland and San Francisco for them The stocks on hand are adequate to the demand. The freight of the Oriflamme has all arrived during the week, and been forwarded to destination The balance of the [illegible] of the Nevada is expected to arrive here [illegible] Transportation is equal to the amount of freight offered, and goods are being forwarded at a slight advance on last quotations, to wit To Owyhee, (mule trains) 19½ cents Idaho City, 8½ to 10c; Boise City, 6 to 7c; Auburn, ([illegible]) 4 cents; La Grande and U[illegible] 3½ cents The high rates paid to Owyhee are [illegible] by the [illegible] of packers to go there at this late and [illegible] in view of the fact that the fear of [illegible] require them to guard their stock continually, day and night, through rain and snow while on that route, a [illegible] that cannot be dispensed with " The Press quoted [illegible] and Salem Mills flour at $8; Magnolia, $7 50; Walla Walla, $5

PERSONAL.—Capt. H. L Hoyt, late Marshal of this city [illegible] by the [illegible] after an absence of some three weeks. He looks to be in an excellent state of preservation and says he has had a very pleasant trip. He visited San Francisco Sacramento and [illegible] City, and after taking account of all their advantages [illegible] that he "is very glad to get back to Portland " Except San Francisco, he says, there is no town [illegible] in his knowledge, which has so much to commend it as has Portland Among the incidents of his trip the Captain mentions that on the trip down, a sailor on board the [illegible] Nevada fell from aloft and broke his leg at the [illegible] the bone like a pipe [illegible] There being no [illegible] on board, his leg was set in a ship-shape manner by A. O Farnsworth, Columbia bar pilot, and [illegible] cared for by Capt [illegible] and his [illegible] with this unfortunate [illegible] there was an incident which struck the passengers with [illegible] and great admiration Rev Dr Eckman, [illegible] and a Catholic priest being among the [illegible] took a great interest in the poor sailor, and [illegible] aside for the time, all their sectarian prejudices and [illegible] on the common religion of humanity, went [illegible] the passengers soliciting subscriptions [illegible]

NOT [illegible] TO DISSIPATION —A day or two since an [illegible] with a wife and between six and twenty-seven [illegible] in this city, in an [illegible] from Yamhill, He put up his team at the [illegible] and, to save expenses, he and all hands [illegible] in the hay loft He was bound for Eastern Oregon, [illegible] board [illegible] half and his twenty-seven [illegible] on the lower deck The Captain, observing that a [illegible] or two of the children were crying with cold and that the [illegible] seemed to be shivering as if she had the ague went to the head of the family and [illegible] to him that he had better take his wife and family up to the [illegible] saloon The man caught the word "saloon," and supposing it to mean nothing more or less than a drinking place, and that the Captain was politely inviting the whole family to take a morning nip, [illegible] saying, "Thank'ee, Captain, not my wife nor [illegible] don't [illegible] drink." The Captain went to his [illegible]

[illegible] —Very many of our [illegible] men and [illegible] are now using [illegible] oil for lights, as more economical than gas Economy [illegible] the word; the [illegible] to the most [illegible] method of using [illegible] which we clip [illegible] only be worth [illegible]

A short time ago we published an article from an exchange to the effect that salt in a kerosene lamp was a great [illegible] of oil We have since fully tested it, and it was a [illegible] than was stated in the article referred [illegible] Fill a lamp half full of [illegible] salt, then fill up with oil It burns with a clearer light and it is a saving of more than [illegible] per cent. in oil. Try it. We have tried it, and fully [illegible] "

[illegible] —A writ of [illegible] was sued out [illegible] Judge Shattuck, by [illegible] Olds, to procure the [illegible] of [illegible] children, the issue of the [illegible] and Mrs. E M Bath, a saloon keeper on Front [illegible] Olds and Mrs. Bath were formerly husband and [illegible] but are since divorced. Mrs. Bath has [illegible] had the [illegible] with her; but as she has gone into the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] girls, as waiters [illegible] in her saloon, Olds is not willing that [illegible] keep [illegible] The divorce of the parties was procured by Olds of the Legislature, and no award of the [illegible] has ever been [illegible] Hence this suit. The [illegible] will be heard by Judge Shattuck to-day

[illegible] COUNCIL —The Council met Wednesday evening Nov 13th, 1867; Mayor [illegible] in the Chair [illegible] called to order, and the roll called by the Clerk. Present, Councilmen [illegible], Hallock Porter and [illegible] Burch, [illegible], M [illegible], McCracken and Ripley—8.

Price, $8 per year

A [illegible] —Our Van is in the family [illegible] and [illegible] likely to do well in this [illegible] yet. One of the best [illegible] about Van is, that [illegible] to put on any airs on account of his [illegible] in life, or to throw off on his late [illegible] they can't wear as good clothes [illegible] Van [illegible] the craft Yesterday, he [illegible] by [illegible] the office with a box [illegible] When Van pairs [illegible] we'll all [illegible] at his [illegible] and buy all our family groceries [illegible]

[illegible] It will be recollected that two or three [illegible] ago, an ox team ran off the ferry boat at the foot of Stark [illegible], and two or three of the oxen and wagon were lost. On [illegible] evening [illegible] Gill and Tucker, while out in a small boat, [illegible] Couch & Flanders' new wharf, [illegible] one of the oxen floating in the river with the yoke on, and buoying up the tongue and fore wheels of the [illegible] with a log chain They towed ashore [illegible] all there was of value.

Marshal by Superintendent [illegible] on a charge of selling liquor to the Indians, was [illegible] on motion of [illegible], his attorney. The [illegible] of the day was consumed in the argument of the case United States vs Cyrus Olney

THE STEAMSHIP "CALIFORNIA "—A rumor was current [illegible] that the steamship California had been lost [illegible] Victoria and the mouth of the Columbia. The [illegible] no doubt arose from the fact that the steamer was [illegible] to be overdue A telegram from Victoria last [illegible] says the California left that port for San Francisco via Portland, at noon on Tuesday. She may, therefore, be looked for this evening

[illegible] —A friend writes us from St. Helens that, a few days since, the residence of Mr H Sales took fire and had a narrow escape from destruction Mr John Ayers, however, with great courage and promptitude attacked and subdued the devouring element before it had done any very serious damage

NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE —Mr H J Fagan, who was so [illegible] injured at the Willamette Iron Works, on Tuesday, still lies in a condition which gives no hope of his recovery. Amputation was not attempted yesterday, as it was thought it would give the sufferer needless pain in his helpless and perhaps dying condition

Has Returned to Portland, and can be found at his residence on Third St., bet. Alder and Washington.

Those who [illegible] FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE; the nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time particularly where tobacco is used for smoking His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or [illegible] surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had The improvement is his own invention for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street. This work has given satisfaction in every case

Set F[illegible] A Prison Incident.

I was sitting with an old friend, the governor of a county jail, and we had been talking over his manner of living—one to which he seemed perfectly reconciled.

"Well," he said, "it is a dull life, perhaps; not that I feel it, for, according to my way of thinking, it is not the occupation, but the man's heart which makes him dull. Depend upon it, hands and a thoughtful mind were not given us for nothing, and the more I think the nearer I come to the conclusion that the busy life is the happy one after all. Now, here I am, with plenty to take up my time in my duties and plenty of studies of character within reach, shut up all ready for me in the different cells.

"Gloomy place this, you'll say, barred and bolted to keep any friends from getting in unasked; but then you know what old Milton said about the mind being its own place, and in itself able to make a heaven of its abode. I'm contented enough, and too busy generally to find fault.

"Yes, you may depend upon it, your busy man is the happiest, for I've seen it again and again. The greatest punishment you can inflict upon a man is to shut him up with nothing to do, nothing to employ his time with, nothing to hinder the constant drag, drag of his thoughts, pulling him toward the past.

"Not always sorrow and contrition, but recollections of drinking bouts and successful robberies and their profits, debaucheries, and then longings for liberty once more. Of course, now and then we get a really repentant fellow—not one of your sal[illegible]ing, fawning rascals, who turn up their eyes and feel so much better for the chaplain's words, and so carefully learn all his texts—but comparatively honest rogues [illegible] who have been sent here for their term of imprisonment, and who feel the bitterness and shame of their position—men who shudder as the barber's scissors crop their hair, and who soon show in their appearance how their punishment is telling upon them. They don't get fat and sleek, and jump up to make bows when you enter their cell, but hide all their troubles in their hearts, and go [illegible] their time silently and doggedly.

"I had such a man here not long back now—Amos Ridding, in for poaching [illegible] how that poor fellow beat against his cage bars! Poor fellow! I believe that he was not a bad man at heart, but he had got himself mixed up with a poaching gang, and a keeper having got half killed, Amos was taken and rightly or wrongly sent here for six months.

"I can soon pick out what I call the canters, and act accordingly; while where I see a poor fellow taking his confinement at heart, why, knowing how it tells on his mind, I do all I can for him to brighten him up, setting him at odd jobs about the place, gardening and so on; while if he has a trade, one that can be worked at in here, I set him to do something in that way, never letting him stand still for tools or material.

"But this poor fellow was unmanageable; he [illegible] as hard as I liked, and as long as I [illegible] but the [illegible] was by himself, he was [illegible] for his wife and children, [illegible] away to skin and bone [illegible] did not know what to do with him, and grew [illegible] at last, for I began to be afraid of [illegible] from one of the warders, telling me that in a fit of that [illegible] despairing [illegible] which comes upon men; poor Ridding had [illegible] away with himself.

"[illegible] at last, but in a different [illegible] for one morning I was [illegible] at five o'clock to be told that the bird had [illegible] down the wires [illegible]

"Why, how did he [illegible]

"[illegible] said the [illegible] and I [illegible] to the cell where the prisoner had been [illegible] the night before, at 8 o'clock, and then [illegible] he had gone to work with an old nail at the [illegible] of one of the iron bars in the window [illegible] and then wrenched [illegible] passage [illegible] enough to allow his body to pass. The blankets and rug were gone, while a piece of one of [illegible] of the bars, evidently [illegible] used to let the [illegible] down into the yard [illegible]

"We were not long in [illegible] the [illegible] yard [illegible] his window [illegible] way into the [illegible] the [illegible] a place severed [illegible] with iron bars. But [illegible] half way [illegible] had [illegible] the bars, and evidently, by [illegible] and forcing, while he held on with his hands, [illegible] till the iron [illegible] for him to reach the body [illegible] he would be able to lower himself into [illegible] whose top [illegible] with [illegible] bricks, which are sure to fall [illegible] is made.

"Not a [illegible] as far as I [illegible] of the men pointed out [illegible] that the [illegible] to my office, and [illegible]

"[illegible] one of the men ran in. 'Found [illegible]

"[illegible] said I. 'Is he in a cell?'

"'No, sir,' said the warder; 'he's [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] had caught sight of [illegible] from a neighboring house, and [illegible]

"[illegible] high [illegible] and then, probably [illegible] been afraid to descend, so he had [illegible] by means of a [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] to take part in such [illegible] so I sent up three men to the top of the [illegible] one of the [illegible] to see the [illegible] not have to walk long [illegible] another [illegible] men [illegible] in the [illegible] high [illegible] and the [illegible] as if [illegible] I mul[illegible] the next [illegible] of a [illegible] which [illegible] the [illegible]

"But for duty, I felt so much sympathy for the poor fellow, that I should have said 'Let him go.' But all I could do was to gaze horror stricken at the [illegible] going on [illegible] thirty feet from where I [illegible] Only they were [illegible] the [illegible] but he [illegible] grasp, and led [illegible] up to the top of the building, each man in the [illegible] of the [illegible] running on to the coping of the parapet, or darting on and down [illegible] in a way that chilled me with horror, [illegible] fall fifty feet into the stone [illegible] below.

"[illegible] Good! I ejaculated at last, for at the [illegible] round the building I saw one of the men drop behind a projection in hiding, and then as the prisoner came round, the warden leaped up, caught him by the throat, and I thought all was over. But directly after I shuddered as I saw a deadly struggle going on within a foot of [illegible] parapet, and felt that the next [illegible] must see the pair falling headlong to the ground; while it was almost a relief to see them go down [illegible] into the gutter and the prisoner leap up, and continue to fight, pursued by the other two [illegible] who had lagged behind to cut off his quarry.

"But a new plan was now being adopted by the pursuers, who crawled on hands and knees be[illegible] the [illegible] one going one way, the other another way, while to my astonishment I saw the [illegible] at the [illegible] the brick-bordered wall back of the building, and let down a rope of knotted blanket, hitherto hidden in the lead gutter, to which it was somehow secured. The next [illegible] at the poor fellow was over the [illegible] swinging backward and forward, and turning round and round as he lowered himself quickly, staring upward at the men, who now came up and looked over at him.

"I'm governor of this jail and I know my duty, but in that moment of peril I could do nothing but look on, for I felt, I may say, that something was going to happen. My hands were wet, the big drops stood [illegible] my brow, when Ridding swung round and I saw his [illegible] eyes, I shuddered again, just as the fragile rope parted, and he came down with his back striking against the wall, and dislodging some of the loose bricks, when I turned away from the window to run down; but not quickly enough to avoid hearing the sickening crash of the poor fellow's fall upon the hard flags in the yard.

"The doctor was standing over Ridding when I went into his cell, and then answering my my inquiring look with a slight raising of the eyelids and a shake of the head, and he went out and left me with the poor fellow, who smiled as I bent over his bed.

"'Are you in much pain?' said I.

"'Only in one place, sir,' he whispered, touching his brow; and then no more was said for a minute or two, when I spoke a few encouraging words.

"'No use, sir, no use,' he murmured. 'Don't be cross with me. I couldn't bear it any longer. I wanted to be with my wife and little ones once more. Tell 'em how it was.'

"The next morning the poor fellow was free free from prison bonds [illegible] earthly bonds all; and I was so [illegible] with that affair that I sent in my resignation. It was returned to me with a note begging that I would reconsider my determination; and I did. But we have some most heartrending [illegible] at times under our care.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating disease from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of using it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the possessor of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes a bad [illegible] for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above [illegible] persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

COUGHS, COLDS,

Bronchitis,

WHOOPING COUGH,

AND

OF THE

Chest and Lungs.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife. She had been affected with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest when Mr. Randall, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam, all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonsfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual: hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose. Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and finding that it relieved me considerably I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man. I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been. Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician. I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now. I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and God-send to mankind.

Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN.

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease, has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week, and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly,
W. F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time; I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.

I remain yours, truly,
J. H. MORRIL.

RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT!

THE MOST REMARKABLE DISCOVERY EVER MADE!

Will Cure All Pains in a Few Minutes!

Read the Certificates!

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10, 1867.

I was at Mr. Wegner's store on Saturday, August 10th, and seeing the magic effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, in his case, concluded to try it on my wrist which has been sprained for some time. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from its application, and it is now perfectly well. My wrist was so swelled I could not shut my fingers. I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

VINCENT McCULLOUGH,
Corner of Fifth and College streets.

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867.

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gum and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump and eased the pain so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

I. MITCHELL.

PORTLAND, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I could not bear such torment. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me. I can recommend it to any lady suffering from pains in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them.

Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah—ss.

I JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business, on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr. Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennicks offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr. Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever.
